

From the JC Raulston Arboretum

The Arboretum has a whole schedule of Zoom events planned for the coming months! See <https://jcra.ncsu.edu/events> For up to date subjects and times.

- Midweek with Mark: Free Zoom talks continue through September and the time is 3:00.
- Gardening in the South: Free gardening program for new gardeners and those new to North Carolina continues on September 19 from 9 AM – 12PM. Featuring talks by Basil Camu, of Leaf and Limb, Bryce Lane and Mark. The virtual format this year means they can open it up to 500 people, but spots are filling up, so register now.
- Sign up for a Fern Propagation workshop
- Falling for Color Symposium: Be inspired by some of the most creative minds in horticulture. They are excited about these six speakers who will share their eye for design and their passion for plants on November 14.

Contact Mark weathington@ncsu.edu for additional information